The Secret to Contentment and Thankfulness

Fall is moving along quickly, and November has arrived. Naturally, that means Thanksgiving is coming soon. What things about Thanksgiving do you look forward to? Is it spending time with family? Maybe it's enjoying an afternoon of watching football or relaxing from a day off work? Are you looking forward to a table full of turkey, stuffing, mashed potatoes, cranberries, and of course pumpkin pie? A meal where no one ever goes away hungry, and we usually find ourselves eating too much. Whether it's spending time with family, enjoying a delicious meal, or spending the day watching football it's easy for us to find contentment on Thanksgiving.

Does it ever seem like that feeling of contentment is hard to maintain in our lives? Often, we can be tempted to focus on what we don't have. We may find ourselves wishing that we had more of this or that. Thinking it would be nice if I just had some more peace, money, rest, vacation days, or earthly possessions. And with that maybe comes the temptation to take what God has given us for granted.

God's Word gives us the key to finding contentment. The Apostle Paul tells us, "For I have learned to be content whatever the circumstances. I know what is it to be in need, and I know what it is to have plenty. I have learned the secret of being content in any and every situation, whether well fed or hungry, whether living in plenty or in want" (Philippians 4:11-12).

During his life, Paul experienced both highs and lows. He went through times when he had plenty and life was going well. On the other hand, he also experienced hardships and challenges. There were times when he suffered persecution, imprisonment, attacks, and was lacking things that we would call necessities. However, despite these dire circumstances, Paul was still satisfied because he had found the secret of contentment.

The Apostle Paul was content because he knew that God has already provided him with what he needed most. He understood that in Christ, God has provided for his spiritual and eternal needs. Jesus Christ has rescued us from sin, death, and the devil. Through his death and resurrection, he has provided us with forgiveness and eternal life. Understanding that, we know that our gracious God will continue to provide for our daily needs.

This contentment that comes from faith now leads to thankfulness. We see all that God has done and want to thank the One who generously opens his hand and blesses us. Each day we have a reason to give thanks because we are God's dearly loved children. We live in appreciation of what our Savior has done for us. And it is the gospel of Jesus Christ which gives us grateful hearts as we seek to serve our Lord, who has served us first. As the Apostle Paul encourages us, "give thanks in all circumstances for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus."

Jonah – God's Grace for All

October 29 — November 19

The prophet Jonah probably is most known for being swallowed by a giant fish. But the account of Jonah includes much more than that. In this book of the Bible, we see many examples of God's merciful love. It is a reminder to us that the Lord is indeed our gracious and compassionate God, slow to anger, abounding in love and faithfulness. We see his compassion for Jonah as well as a city that was renowned for its oppression and cruelty. In our sermon series, "Jonah – God's Grace for All," we will take a closer look at God's indescribable love for us and all people.

10-29	Grace for the Runaways	Jonah 1:1-16
11-5	Grace for the Distressed	Jonah 1:17—2:10
11-12	Grace for All Nations	Jonah 3:1-10
11-19	Grace for the Self-Righteous	Jonah 4:1-11

ELDERS’ MESSAGE

How strong is your faith? Have you ever thought about that?

I often hear “My faith is strong,” or something to that effect, from people who haven’t been in church for a longer period of time. Is what they’re professing true? I pray that it is. But scripture warns us, “So, if you think you are standing firm, be careful that you don’t fall!” (1 Corinthians 10:12).

So how can we be sure? Faith shows itself in actions out of love for our Lord. In the book of James we learn that faith without works is dead — “What good is it, my brothers and sisters, if someone claims to have faith but has no deeds? Can such faith save them?” “In the same way, faith by itself, if it is not accompanied by action, is dead” (James 2:14, 17).

In 1 Corinthians 13:2 we’re told that “if I have a faith that can move mountains, but do not have love, I am nothing.”

Faith and love go hand in hand. You can’t have one without the other. Why? Because the source of both is God. Our faith is made strong through God’s Word and Sacraments, and our love increases through the Gospel of our Lord, Jesus Christ.

I don’t know about you, but I can think of no better place than our very own church for a good dose of the Gospel and Sacraments for increasing our love and strengthening our faith and then showing it through the many service opportunities that are abundantly available. What a great God we serve that he even offers all of this to us in just one place. Please, don’t let your church attendance lapse.

— Jim Schroeder, Elder

Lambs of Christ
Learning Center

November often invites people to reflect on all their blessings, showing thankfulness for what they have in life. At Lambs of Christ, God has given us many blessings this school year that we can be thankful for! We are thankful to be serving over 70 students and their families in 6 different classrooms. Students range in age from 6 weeks to 5 years old and it has been amazing to see their growth in the first two months of school. We are thankful for God's Word and continue to share weekly Bible stories, Bible passages, songs, and prayers with families so that they can incorporate them into their routines at home.

October also had many blessings to be thankful for. We are thankful for the opportunity we had to sing in church and for the fellowship opportunity afterwards. We also had a full house for Special Guest Day, making fun, fall memories with loved ones. Additionally, we are thankful for the professional development days we had so that staff could connect with one another and other educators in God's Word, learning new information to better serve our students.

Looking ahead to November, there are several events that we eagerly look forward to:

- First, LCLC will sing in church on Sunday, November 16 in the 10:30 am service. Students will remind us that God loves all of us through their singing of "God Loves Me Dearly." We warmly welcome you to come hear our children use their voices to praise our Savior.
- November 17-21 will be a full week with parent teacher conferences. This time allows families the opportunity to connect in person with their child's teacher to discuss all the learning and growth that has already happened this school year and plan goals for the rest of the school year. We will also be hosting our Paper Pie Book Fair that week! Church families are invited to attend the book fair. It's a great time to get books and gifts for the holiday season ahead.
- Finally, LCLC will be closed November 27-28 in celebration of Thanksgiving. Before we part ways for the holiday, families will have the opportunity to connect with one another through our Family Feast on November 26. They'll hear God's Word, engage in some Thanksgiving activities, and enjoy delicious food!

Still looking for a wonderful learning environment for your child? Get on our wait list to receive an available spot as soon as it opens up! Visit our website (www.christpewaukee.org/lambs-of-christ) or contact our office (262-737-6210 or lclc@christpewaukee.org) for registration information and to learn more about our programs.

We'd also love to have you follow us on Facebook to keep up to date with how our school year is going! Thank you for the continued prayers for our students, families, and staff!

From Your Parish Nurses: Subconjunctival Hemorrhage

A subconjunctival hemorrhage is the bursting of a tiny blood vessel in the protective tissue covering the eye. A subconjunctival hemorrhage can be thought of like a bruise, when a blood vessel breaks in skin tissue. When a blood vessel in the conjunctiva (thin protective layer that covers the eye) bursts, the blood isn't absorbed right away. Instead, it leaks between the conjunctiva and the white of the eye.

Minor trauma may cause a subconjunctival hemorrhage. But even a strong sneeze or cough can cause a blood vessel in the conjunctiva to burst. A subconjunctival hemorrhage may look alarming, but it's usually a harmless condition that doesn't need treatment. It typically disappears within a few days to a few weeks.

The main sign of a subconjunctival hemorrhage is a bright red patch on the white part of the eye. A subconjunctival hemorrhage looks worse than it actually is. It should cause no discharge, pain or change in vision. The only discomfort may be itching or irritation. If you have subconjunctival hemorrhages often or other easy bruising or bleeding, talk with your healthcare professional.

Also, see your health professional (PCP or eye care provider) if you injure your eye, have eye pain, or have vision changes.

If you no longer wish to receive paper offering envelopes or need to update your mailing address, contact the church office (office@christpewaukee.org).

Those members who have opted in for electronic giving statements, will receive them quarterly. Printed statements will be available in call boxes semi-annually, after June 30 and after December 31. Contact Laurie Nitz if you would like to change your statement preferences (lnitz@christpewaukee.org).

“JESUS AND ME” PLAYGROUP

Our “Jesus and Me” playgroup for caregivers and children meets once a week offsite. Contact Erin Rausch at erausch@christpewaukee.org to learn more about meeting dates, times, and locations.

Stream Team Volunteers Needed

We are looking for volunteers who would like to be part of the streaming team. This team runs the camera equipment in our church services to present God’s Word for others to worship God wherever they are. Streaming on YouTube is part of our outreach program and is a service to our homebound and traveling members. The process has been simplified and volunteers would be trained and serve once every month or two. Recording the Saturday 5:00 pm services are the first priority. Additional services could be handled as the number of volunteers allows. This task is not difficult or time-consuming and provides an opportunity to serve in God’s kingdom. We would like to fill this team as soon as possible. If interested, please contact Brett Valerio at brett.valerio@wlc.edu or 262-408-1803.
